Good morning and a blessed day.

Thank you for providing the materiality thresholds, it's very helpful and explicit.

Based on the Nigerian Minerals and Mining Regulation 2011, however, it's important to note that these amounts have been updated since then. I recommend referencing the most regulations to ensure accuracy. (See attachments).

Speaking on the Ministry of Mines and Steel Development and Mining Cadastre Office. Application fees as contained in your notes has been reviewed over the time.

Current fee for applicates: blasting certificate is now N50,000.00 per certificate as against N10,000.00, consolidation N150,000.00 as against N20,000, Permit to buy explosives N20,000.00 not N10,000.00 in your etc.
